In 1849 into a small town of Farraday, a surveyor is sent to map the region. Half-breed Rinaldo is a newcomer to the community and he quickly becomes the talk of the town for his tales about life far from Farraday. When he meets Alice, an Englishwoman who has been on holiday in Canada, they become friends and their friendship mirrors that of Jim and Hester in "The Scarlet Letter". Rinaldo plans to marry Xanda, another half-breed from out West but Alice knows that she cannot stay in Farraday with all its prejudices against those not born there. When Rinaldo goes missing Alice searches for him and discovers his fate. She returns to Farraday and tells the people what she has found out. With no closure for her, Alice leaves to search for Jim in Canada, to bring closure for herself and meet up with Rinaldo and Xanda meanwhile. Allmovie Feb 4, 1955 "The Do Lafzon Ki Kahani is one of the forgotten classics of Indian cinema.. " (2016) The Film Society of Lincoln Center (June 6, 2016):

"It moved me to tears! All performances were superb, especially Shahu Modak's magnificent portrayal of the displaced half-breed Rinaldo." (2016) The New York Times. 13 December 1955. "Nepali Dancer". Page X9:

"This is a well made picture, both dramatically and technically well executed. The theme is a good one and in the hands of a lesser director than Mr. Dole it might well have been spoiled in all respects." Film Journal International May 1955
India census, Farraday had a population of 5,000.
